

ED LOOSE FOR SMOOT MACHINE

Announces That He Favors the Re-election of Senator From Utah.

FRIENDLY TO THE "BUNCH"

SAYS HE HAS HOPES FOR REPUBLICAN TICKET.

Special to The Herald.

Provo, Aug. 26.

"To Whom It May Concern: It has been published of late, and repeated in various newspapers of the state that there has been a falling out between Senator Smoot and me. In particular, and my other friends within the Republican party, I desire briefly to contradict that there has been any falling out, nor will there likely be any differences, such as reported, between us. I am for a continuance of Senator Smoot in the United States senate and shall do all I can for his re-election. Further, I am a Republican and shall hope for the entire Republican ticket, which seems to me assured by both the state and national newspaper talk to the contrary notwithstanding.

"C. E. LOOSE."

This communication from Ed. Loose was gratuitous.

Some weeks ago Mr. Loose was looked upon as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. For a time it looked as though he would receive the nomination without opposition. Then some one put on the brakes. It is understood that at a conference of Republican leaders Representative Howell declared that word had come from "headquarters"—meaning Smoot—that Spry and not Loose should be given the nomination. Loose immediately quit.

For several years Mr. Loose has been the principal backer of the Republicans, contributing to Republican campaigns with campaign contributions and wagers in the betting ring. Since he was freed by the "dictators" this year he has not been active in the campaign.

TROUBLE IN SANPETE.

Visit of Federal Bunch Does Not Promote Harmony.

Special to The Herald.

Manti, Aug. 26.—Since the appearance of William P. Caudill, known as "Big Plant" in the Temple City yesterday as escort for Spry and Howell, who are here in interest of their candidacy, it has developed that "Caudill" who pretends to be the Republican boss in Sanpete, formed a combination which will ask the judicial convention to support A. H. Christensen for judge, and Lewis Larsen, present county attorney, for district attorney. Of course Manti Republicans are not finding fault with the prospects of getting two of the largest offices in the district, but the question of "Caudill" seems to be, would it be good politics?

Mr. Thomas, in speaking of the trip, said that the Utah side of the canyon is wonderfully beautiful. That the attractiveness of the region is not unknown to the world. Mr. Thomas says, in the fact that the Grand Canyon branch of the Santa Fe is crowded with tourists during the summer season. The Thomas party left Salt Lake on August 11 and spent two weeks among the wonders of the canyon.

Talks on Investment No. 8

Many people do not begin to save their money because they have not a large sum with which to start. This is an unfortunate idea. No man can build a wall who refuses to lay the first brick, and no one can acquire a fortune who fails to invest the first dollar.

You can open an account in our Savings Department with one dollar, drawing interest at 4 per cent, and when your savings amount to $100.00 or over we will issue you a combined certificate and mortgage bearing interest at 6 per cent per annum.

USURIOUS NOTE TESTED IN COURT

Darling Sues Botsford to Collect $295 Balance on Loan of $100.

After paying $137.50 on a note of $100, E. H. Botsford objects to paying $295 more to settle the debt. He is being sued by E. E. Darling to that amount, and the legal questions involved were argued before Judge Ritchie of the district court yesterday morning.

It appears that in 1901 Botsford borrowed $100 from Darling, agreeing to pay him $250 interest a month before the note matured. He did not pay the note when due, and Darling instituted the action for the amount still claimed to be due under the contract. He did not pay the note when due, and Darling instituted the action for the amount still claimed to be due under the contract. He did not pay the note when due, and Darling instituted the action for the amount still claimed to be due under the contract.

The question before the court is whether it is good public policy to allow such a contract to stand. It is argued that it is not in force and cannot in any way be made to apply to the present case.

The attorney for Botsford terms the contract as "unconscionable," and one which should not be recognized, despite the fact that he could find the plaintiff as a matter of law. The court will decide whether it is possible for a court of equity, not absolutely bound by statutory restrictions, to step in and declare the note illegal on the ground that it is against public policy to charge such a rate of interest.

Botsford does not complain against the $250 interest exacted before the note matured, but objects to paying $5 a month, or 60 per cent a year, after maturity. It is claimed by the attorney for Darling that the court has no right to interfere in this matter, as Botsford entered into the contract with his eyes open and fully understanding the conditions which it imposed upon him.

Judge Ritchie has taken the case under advisement and will probably render a written decision, as the points of law involved are important.

SHIFTY MEXICANS PICKING UP LOOSE ENDS IN SALT LAKE

Frank Lopez, Wanted in Ogden, Trips Gayly Out of Station After Being Arrested.

Vigilant Reporter Takes Up Chase and Fugitive Is Halting by Jailer Ripley's Gun.

The city is infested by a gang of Mexican thieves. Several alleged members of the gang are now behind the bars of the city jail. Frank Lopez and C. A. New, charged with burglary, and Miguel Vascas, charged with shoplifting, were arrested by Patrolman Carlson.

"I'll be back in a minute," said Frank Lopez to Sergeant Lenzi yesterday afternoon as he opened the door leading from the sergeant's room to the hall. "In just a minute," reiterated Lopez, who had been arrested by Patrolman Kast on the charge of burglary, yesterday, in company with C. A. New.

Lenzi, seeing Lopez leave the room, made an ineffectual protest, which passed unheeded as the latter by that time was on his way through the alley in the rear of the jail. A newspaper reporter, noticing the hurried exit of Lopez, raised an alarm and started in pursuit.

Chief Pitt and Jailer Ripley were passing on the west side of State street, when they saw Lopez, who was running "on his way" through the alley in the rear of the jail. A newspaper reporter, noticing the hurried exit of Lopez, raised an alarm and started in pursuit.

The police department was notified on Aug. 24 of the robbery of the house of J. H. Cordon of Ogden. Clothing, jewelry and silverware to the value of $200 were stolen. Patrolman Kast arrested C. A. New on suspicion and later confronted him with the charge of burglary, mentioning the Ogden case. New broke down and confessed, giving Kast information as to where he could find the plunder and his alleged partner in the crime. He named Lopez as the accomplice and the leader in the burglary. Kast arrested Lopez an hour later in a rooming house at the Ogden saloon. New had told Kast that Lopez was dangerous and said that he was wanted in Denver for a shooting.

In view of this information, Kast burst into the room, weapon in hand, and, covering Lopez, informed him he was under arrest. After taking his prisoner to headquarters, Kast returned to the rooming house and found the plunder, finding a large value under the bed. The grip contained the missing wearing apparel. The jewelry was recovered above. As the officer re-entered the station Chief Pitt and Jailer Ripley, accompanied by their recent capture, entered from the rear.

Chief Browning arrived in the city last night and will take Lopez and New back to Ogden, where they will be held with burglary. Chief Pitt said that he would obtain a picture of Lopez before he was sent to Ogden, as he is convinced that the latter is a professional crook.

STOPS ALL LEAKS IN WATERWORKS

Council Committee Cuts Off Free List, Including Hospitals and Churches.

Churches, hospitals and charitable institutions of all kinds will no longer be given abatements of their water taxes. The city council committee on waterworks, which is now sitting as a board of equalization of water rates, has made this ruling, and it is strictly adhered to. The committee members contend that they have only the power to make abatements for charity, and also in cases where errors in the assessment have been made and proved. In the past a large number of applications from the institutions classed above have been received, and often the entire assessment abated or a reduction made. This year nothing of the kind will be done.

For many years the Mormon church has been exempted from paying for the water used on the Temple grounds on the ground that it is a public park. This year an assessment has been made and payment will be demanded.

The committee is also considering the matter of compelling all water users to provide themselves with meters, thus doing away with the present unsatisfactory assessment system. It is argued in favor of this plan that it is being adopted in all the large cities of the country and is found to work well.

If meters were universally used, water consumers would pay only for the amount actually used, and the person who is careful could not be compelled to pay for the expense of furnishing water to the wasteful portion of the community. It is estimated that it will take water users, and the committee intends to take the matter up with the council in short time in order that some action looking toward the change may be taken in the near future.

POLICEMAN FACES INQUIRY

Clough Makes Damaging Admission Regarding Arrest of Stringfellow at Salt Palace.

Chief Pitt is making an investigation in the case of Patrolman Clough, who is charged with arresting A. W. Stringfellow to satisfy a grudge. The latter was arrested twice in one night. He was charged with drunkenness and disturbing the peace. Both arrests were made at Salt Palace.

The case was aired yesterday in the trial of Stringfellow before Judge Whitaker. Attorney Ashby Snow and Attorney J. W. Clough, who represented the defendant, Attorney Snow, after a grueling cross examination, succeeded in causing Patrolman Clough to make damaging statements in regard to his actions at the time of the arrest.

Admissions made by Clough were sufficient grounds for an investigation of the case by Chief Pitt, who has yet made no statement in the matter.

The charge against Stringfellow was dismissed on a motion of Assistant City Attorney Daly.

"FISHING" FOR VOTES.

Vacation Trip of Republican Leaders Has Political Significance.

The "fishing" trip of United States Marshal Spry, Congressmen Howell and other Republicans of the federal bunch has taken them to localities that are not often frequented by anglers—that is the kind that are endeavoring to capture real fish. When the party left Salt Lake the members proudly announced that they were going to one of the canyons to forget politics and to enjoy a real vacation. Since that time they have been heard from through country newspapers in Park City, Mount Pleasant, Ephraim, Manti, Richfield, Nephi and Lehi. Each paper that commented on their visit mentioned the fact that it was politics and not angling that prompted the tour of the once decreed to be the Republican nominees.

AMUSEMENTS.

May Robson will be seen at the Salt Lake theatre this evening in the new American comedy, "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," the piece in which L. S. Sire is presenting her this season. In this new comedy Miss Robson has one of the best character parts she has ever had during her entire stage career. In dramatizing the novel, the author, Anne Warner, has left out none of the comedy, but added to it, making it one of the most original comedies ever presented to the American public. The promise of the management is that the entire cast and production will be seen here, as played at the Lyceum theatre, Chicago, for three months.

The variety of pictures given by the Cameraphone this week makes an hour's entertainment that is proving very attractive. The present bill will be continued, afternoon and evening, until Saturday.
